

Asian Media Access presents Cinema With Passion

THE BEST OF HONG KONG FILMS

OCTOBER - DECEMBER EVERY FRIDAY AT MIDNIGHT & SATURDAY AT 11:00 AM
RIVERVIEW THEATER, 3800 42nd AVENUE SOUTH, MINNEAPOLIS
Featuring classic 40's decor!

October 7 & 8 Swordsman II (東刀不敗)

Jet Li plays a bladesmaster who finds himself involved in the quest for the magical Sacred Scrolls. Brigitte Lin stars in a tailor-made role as a villainous sorcerer who slowly transmogrifies into a woman as the story progresses! A most complicated quadrangular love relationship and the BEST FXs you can ever imagine!

taking chase scene happens in the Hong Kong under-sea tunnel. A SUPER PLUS with Jackie Chan's short but funny appearance.

November 25 & 26

Rose, Rose, I Love You (93'黑玫瑰对白玫瑰)

Famous burglar Mackie is caught stealing a rare gemstone. But the gemstone is nowhere to be found. When Mackie escapes from jail, detectives Liu (Tony Leung of Annaud's "The Lover") is sent out to find him and the gem...and the chase is on. Restoration of 60sTV characters and songs weaved in with great fight choreography, this film appeals to all ages.

October 14 & 15 Mr. Vampire I (殭屍先生)

A local priest of Chinese black magic smells trouble when he sees that a 20-year-old corpse has not decomposed! The corpse rises from the coffin to claim its first victim -- his own son. Cosmic chaos complicated by supernatural love affairs, terrestrial jealousies and ghostly struggles for hearts, minds -- and bodies!

December 2 & 3

Bride with White Hair (白髮魔女傳)

This is one of the most enduring love stories in ancient China. Leslie Cheung, plays the best Wudang fighter who falls in love with evil Lian (played by the most beautiful star, Brigitte Lin). Their love is forbidden, and both pay heavy prices for it. Great costume design and camera movement. Many, many, many special effects!

(殭屍家族)

October 21 & 22 Mr. Vampire II

Round two of the hugely successful original is another hauntingly funny and horribly hilarious romp among the quick, the dead and the somewhere-in-between. Many funny but spooky slapsticks!!! You don't want to miss this one before Halloween!!!

November 4 & 5 City Hunter (城市獵人)

Jackie Chan is the popular Japanese comic book character Ryu Saeba: part detective, part mercenary. In this comedy filled action film, he saves a cruise ship from terrorists in a way only Jackie Chan can portray. Great fist fights and endless comic stunts!

December 9 & 10

All for the Winner (賭聖)

The first of many comical parities to follow Chow Yun-Fat's phenomenal hit "The God of Gamblers.". Mao is a naive villager with x-ray vision, and his street-smart cousin wants to use Mao's abilities on a gambling venture. Brilliant comic act by Stephen Chiau, Hong Kong's JIM CARRY!

November 11 & 12 (黃飛鴻之三-獅王爭霸)

Once Upon a Time in China III

The Empress Dowager decides to hold a Lion Dance Competition, but causes many fights between martial arts schools that only Jet Li's Wong Fei Hong can stop. Director Tsui Hark's beautiful camera work of a hundred lions dance is as you've never seen before. Jet Li's kung fu fighting carries on the excitement of the two previous films.

December 16 & 17

Drunken Master II (醉拳 II)

In the turbulent years before the first World War, a valuable piece of jade is being smuggled by an unscrupulous British out of China, with nothing and no one to stand in his way...except Jackie Chan -- returning as the legendary master Wong Fei-Hong,

(same hero in Jet Li's "Once Upon a Time in China") the role that first propelled him to international stardom 15 years ago.

November 18 & 19

Once a Cop (超級計畫)

Another brilliant action film with Michelle Khan. Michelle is invited to Hong Kong to stop a cross-border crime. Her boyfriend Cheng unexpectedly shows up - he has turned his talents to crime. The last breath-
