The butt-kicking babes of Heroic Trio are back in this Waterworld antithesis where drinkable water is a rare, and high-priced commodity controlled by an evil maniac. Johnny To and Ching Siu-tung (Heroic Trio, Chinese Ghost Story) co-direct this stylized actioner where Hong Kong beauties Michelle Khan, Anita Mui, and Maggie Cheung bring order and justice to an apocalyptic world.

Saviour of the Soul~1991, 99 min.

九一神鵬俠侶

Surrealism never looked better than in this dazzling, futuristic actioner starring Anita Mui as May-chun, a high-class assassin on the run from the Silver Fox (Aaron Kwok) who wants revenge for the death of his boss. May-chun's sweetheart and fellow assassin, Chin (Andy Lau), tries to rescue her before the Fox can turn her into a Terrible Angel! Co-directed by David Lai and Corey Yuen (Fong Sai-Yuk).

If you liked Reservoir Dogs, you have to go back to Tarantino's source. This high-powered, emotional gangster saga stars the inimitable Chow Yun-fat as an undercover cop whose loyalty gradually shifts from a police force that constantly betrays him to a gang of thieves with whom he risks his life during the final, explosive jewelry store heist. Directed by Ringo Lam.

Full Contact~1992, 96 min.

No more cops as bad "good guys," this film features Chow Yun-fat as a good "bad guy" pitted against the bad "bad guys," Judge, Deano, and Virgin. Betrayed after a heist in Thailand and left for dead, Jeff (Chow's) methodical revenge takes him back to Hong Kong where he sets the town ablaze as he roots out his enemies. Also stars Simon Yam and Anthony Wong, directed by Ringo Lam.
